

Scotland, August

On

our second attempt of the year to get to Scotland we made it with Charlotte and I taking Cirrus N147CD and Vince and Karen in their trusty PA28, G-AYUH. Our full gameplan was somewhat truncated due to less than ideal weather however we still got some pretty good flying in, routing Durham Tees Valley, Inverness, Oban, Islay and Blackpool. This picture was taken as the Cirrus overtook the PA28 over the Isle of Jura between Oban and Islay. The full story will appear soon as a photo essay on FotoFlight.
